

Ugly Tie or Hat Day

Got an Ugly Tie or Hat laying around??? Well have a contest with it by setting days when you can pay to wear it. Maybe in your school.....work....social meeting day or church gathering. This would work great with husbands and wives. Kids and friends can join in to make it more interesting. Each person that puts in a dollar gets a ticket which says "Wear It" or "Don't Wear It" and place it in a jar. You want to wear it and wife doesn't want you to. How much fun can you have with that!!!!!! Wives can get involved by making it an ugly hat, jewelry or shoes day with the same ugly tie day rules Friends, coworkers or classmates can do the same thing by having the jar where all can get to it. Rules can be reversed.....They want you to wear that ugly thing and you do not want to.

Set up the rules and where you will wear the tie, hat or chosen item. Say Last Sunday of the month is Ugly tie day!!!! You purchase two tickets for $2 the on Monday to wear your favorite ugly tie. Your wife finds out and purchases 3 tickets for $3 on Wed. to stop you. Day before Ugly Tie Sunday you draw the tickets out of the jar and hope you get to wear the Ugly Tie of your choice. While your wife prays her ticket is drawn and you do not wear that Ugly Tie. Or maybe count and see if there are more "Wear It" tickets or "Don't Wear It" to see who wins. Others could join in and buy ticket to put in the jar for a wear or no wear draw.

Tickets:

Can be simple pieces of paper saying "Wear It" "Don't Wear It"

You purchase the appropriate ticket which needs to be in the hands of a neutral person. This person will collect the money, make sure it gets to the home and they will oversee the Wear ...Don't Wear ticket count.
